BIG BRAWL IN DOWNTOWN SIMCOE

Downtown residents of Simcoe were shocked last Friday night when a brawl broke out between 6 men, all current or former NHL players who live in or around the county. Rick Wamsley, Rob Blake, Jassen Cullimore, Dwayne Roloson, Nelson Emerson, and Red Kelly, all happened to be at the same street corner at the same time. No one is quite sure why the brawl started, but spectators to the event reported hearing some of the players shout out, "I haven't had this much fun in a decade," and, "This brings back memories eh?"

The brawl might have gone on for much longer if not for the efforts of local swim sensation Annaleise Carr who bravely jumped into the fray pulling the men apart from each other and righting their shirts. Witnesses say Annaleise, who also just happened upon the scene, was heard shouting, "Oh my God you guys, act your age!" All 6 men were sent to their homes with 5-minute majors and were suspended from going to downtown Simcoe for 4 days. No one was seriously injured in the fracas and the crowd surrounding the brawl seemed extremely excited by the event and were heard to be chanting the word "fight, fight!" over and over again.

LOCAL PET STORE BECOMES PREMIER SPONSOR FOR A SECOND TIME!

Ruffin's of Simcoe has done it again. This fantastic pet store has put its money where its heart is and become Premier Sponsor of David Cornel's comedy fundraiser for a second time.

"We care about animals. All animals. This is just another way of bringing the needed funds to support the efforts of the amazing team that runs The Simcoe & District Humane Society." Said owner Mark. "This community has been good to us, and we are happy to give back."

Check them out. Your pet will thank you. That will likely freak you out, but it will happen none the less.

COUNTY COUNCILLORS PASS THE BUCK!

"What a bunch of rubes!"

Norfolk County Councillors have agreed to allow residents of Old Mill Rd to fix and maintain their street at their own expense. The road, which dead ends on Lake Erie, is eroding, threatening those who reside there of losing their properties to the lake.

County manager Lee Robinson has been quoted as saying that the $20,000.00 project to shore up a 42-foot gap caused by the changing lake "will be maintained by them (the residents). The county has basically been divested of responsibility."

Another city councillor was quoted as saying, "I can't believe these people are so gullible. They actually think we've done them a favour. What a bunch of Rubes!"

Residents have asked council to pay for part of the $20,000.00 but councillor Peter Black thinks that would just complicate the matter, while Mayor Luke thinks the agreement is "win/win."

Encouraged by the success in transferring costs of repair a that should be done by the city to the desperate residents, city council has decided to try again with other residents, transferring responsibility for all town repairs to the people who live nearest to them.

"This is a great idea," said one councillor, "and as long as the rest of the people in town are as accepting of being screwed by us as the residents of Old Mill Rd, we could save a tonne of money."

Mayor Luke has no idea what 'Win/Win' means.

When commenting on an agreement that would burden local residents with $20,000.00 in street repairs and the cost of permanent upkeep on what is clearly a city problem, Mayor Luke was reported to have said the situation was "win/win." It is clear now that the mayor has no idea that the common phrase 'win/win' really means that both sides benefit, and has confused it with another common phrase; "We scr@#ed them over big time!"

LOCAL BUSINESSES DO GREAT THINGS

On October 28th at The Delhi Belgian Club, comedian David Cornel and host Billy Wiegand will be performing a comedy show to raise money for The Simcoe & District Humane Society. This hard working organization helps over 500 animals every year get healthy and find new homes. They are not government funded and rely solely on donations and fundraising events like this. Tickets are just $10 and include a night of comedy, raffles, silent auction and casino games.

$6000 OR MORE WILL BE RAISED ON OCTOBER 28TH

The businesses you see advertised on this primer are the ones who have stepped up and given their support in order to make this event happen. Without the support of these giving establishments, there would be no show. Please say thank you by thinking of them when you need to make your next purchase. EXECUTIVE IDIOTS AT U.S. STEEL ARE EVEN BIGGER IDIOTS THAN IMAGINED.

After successfully eliminating benefits to more than 21,000 pensioners of U.S. Steel Canada worth $838 Million, 28 executives of the company, currently in bankrupt proceedings, are receiving $2.47 million in bonuses.

When asked to comment on the bonuses scheme, one executive said, "we managed to deny benefits to thousands of people who worked for us, and that's after we put thousands of people out of work! That doesn't happen by accident you know. It's hard work being that evil."

Another idiot executive from the company said, "We worked hard to keep money out of the hands of the people we made promises to and deserve to be rewarded for being such greedy bastards."

Port Dover Rich Jerks Welcome Rich Jerks from Toronto

The brand new two story Long Point Beach Club is soon to open on Lake Erie with 18 lakeside suites ranging from $7500 to rent for a night, or $700,000.00 to rent for a season. With these prices it is pretty much a given that the only people who can afford them will be rich jerks from Toronto.

Former county mayor Dennis Travale and current councillor Jim Oliver were on hand for the ribbon cutting ceremony, and to kiss the ass of general manager Jeff Bouck who in turn will spend the rest of his life kissing the asses of rich jerks from Toronto.

"One of our biggest assets as a county, as a municipality is our natural environment," said Oliver as he celebrated the building that residents believe would be the beginning of commercial development in the area, thus destroying the natural environment. "This should bring in tourists," he continued, "it should bring in residents, it will bring in tax dollars for Norfolk County," It is assumed when Oliver means residents he actually means rich jerks from Toronto.

Said one person in attendance at the ceremony, "Hey, we're rich, what do we care if we hurt an entire community or threaten the health of a provincial park, and national wildlife preserve that has been deemed a World Biosphere Reserve site by Unesco? We're from Toronto."

"I think everybody is more than pleased with what we have (here)" said GM Bouck to a group of local rich jerks who wish they were from Toronto, despite the fact that local cottage and land owners have said from the beginning that the structure will forever change the small community, and that in 2011 The Ontario Municipal Board nixed the idea saying it was bad for Long Point. But that didn't stop this rich jerk from ploughing ahead. "We're (sic) born and raised in the community and we're going to just keep doing what we do." Jerk.

The hideous looking building that no one but rich snobs from Toronto will ever stay in.
